

Tom O'Sullivan	Tom O'Sullivan was a primary teacher, and also a teaching principal, in a designated disadvantaged school in inner city Limerick up to 2002. He then became Assistant General Secretary of the INTO and retired from that post in August 2014. Among his responsibilities were special education, school leadership and social inclusion policy matters, as well as being editor of the INTO magazine and website. Tom previously served as a member of the NCSE from 2007 to 2013.
----------------	---