

Sesame Street School Closure Resources

Sesame Street have developed a huge bank of resources for children, parents and teachers /caregivers. Their webpages including their new Caring for Each Other (School closure) resource pages include eBooks, videos, tips, articles, printables, interactive games and more.

“Your friends on Sesame Street are here to support you during the COVID-19 health crisis, as families everywhere are creating a “for now normal”. Children strive with structure in their lives, and they learn best through play – even in everyday moments. So our site is filled with content you can use all day long to spark playful learning, offer children comfort, and focus a bit on yourself, too. After all, it’s important that we take care of ourselves, so that we can best care for our families.”

“Our resources aren’t prescriptions you have to follow- just ideas to you’re your family find ways to breathe, laugh, and play together. We’ll be adding more in days and weeks to come, including new messages featuring your furry friends from Sesame Street” – www.Sesamestreet.org/caring
